F. Support

2. Logistics

The Office of Logistics (OL) maintains a flexible and multifaceted capability to acquire and distribute a spectrum of goods and services. Mechanisms and personnel resources are in place to provide acquisition and delivery of commercial, military, and Agency/government/United States sterile material. Engineering design and management for physical plant facilities are available. Logistics assets can be mobilized to react to ad hoc and quick reaction requirements, as well as to develop and implement sound logistics infrastructures. To ensure effective mobilization and total responsiveness to the operational requirement, it is essential that the Office of the Director of Logistics (O-D/L) be briefed early in the stages of a crises/surge situation so that authorities, security, and compartmentation needs can be addressed.
